

ABSTRACT

An idler supporting a conveyor belt, said idler having a pad including a bottom surface and a top surface; a bore in said bottom surface, said bore including a frusto-conical portion extending from the bottom surface toward the top surface, whereby as the pad wears, the bore is exposed in the top surface.